

SHOOTING STARS

12-19 months

This room provides a variety of experiences to learn skills such as discovering the world around them, exercising creativity and initiating independence during their toddler years. This room is structured toward free play and exploration. The children also have a short circle time and easy art projects. In order to incorporate physical activity into the toddler's day, they enjoy doing action songs, playing outside, and playing in the gym. The children's day is always full of new experiences.
